

Trinity Lutheran Church P&C Team
Report to Congregation Council
March, 2019

The P&C Committee met on February 19. Due to scheduling conflicts, we only had 4 members of our committee present. We have scheduled another meeting for March 25th to cover more of our agenda items.

Mitzi Jones attended our February meeting to discuss publicity for Mardi Gras in May. We discussed the use of the website, Facebook page, and print publications for advertising the event and fundraising opportunities. We have created a website (trinitycamphill.org/mardigras) where we will post all information. A post card and Flyer have been produced to distribute for the event.

We briefly discussed the new directory at our last meeting. We are definitely off to a slow start with getting people interested in and using the directory. We have added this as a main discussion point for our March 25th meeting.

It was noted at our meeting that Jeff Weaver has decided to retire as our webmaster at the end of this calendar year. There are no words to describe how important of a volunteer Jeff has been for many, many years. While, we are still in denial that this is happening, we will begin to formulate a plan for a successful transition to a new webmaster.

In the last month we worked with Pastor Horner and the Arts committee to create the "Icon signs" for the Gathering Space Art wall. We will be working with Amy Heinly on the Art Wall for the month of April. The display will coordinate with her "Steps to the Cross," which will be located in the Chapel Hallway.

Finally, both myself and Stephanie Maurer have been attending the Kairos Committee meetings as well as the Building Committee meetings. We are excited for the things happening with those groups.

Respectfully submitted,
Danelle Andrews
