Podcast development

The podcast development is going well. Should be ready for a January debut.

Mentoring

Deacon David Hope-Tringali has asked me to be his mentor for what was First Call Theological. Trinity hosted other first call pastors/deacons and their mentors on the 13th.

Christmas plans

Famous basketball coach John Wooden said "Flexibility is the key to stability." We have certainly shown a great amount of flexibility this year, especially with Christmas plans. We may not be able this season to have the most awesome Christmas celebrations we are used to, but we can make this something special to remember, that lifts our spirits and celebrates God's gift in Jesus.

Your servant in Christ,

Pastor Jack Horner
