Here is both Mommy and Daddy Potato and Gramma Potato. You can tell which one is Gramma Potato because she has the hearing aid on. They are busy getting ready for company. It will be Pastor Ed and his family!

"I have so much to do!" Mommy said to Polly and Haman. "I don't have enough hands!"

"We can be your hands mommy!" said Polly.

"Well, well, well!" said Mr. Potato Head. "We will be your hands and your feet! Reporting for duty!"

Mommy sent Daddy and Haman to empty all the trash cans around the house and then to carry it all out to the big garbage can.

And mommy sent Polly to pick some flowers from the yard. Isn't this a pretty bouquet of lilies of the valley and violets?

And then they were sent to set the table. Daddy carried the big stack of plates and Polly put one at each chair and then Haman carefully placed a napkin on the left side of every place setting. And then they placed the silverware.

And of course, there was the dusting and tidying up that needed to be done!

Do you ever help your Mommy and Daddy get the house ready when company is coming? There is always much to do when preparing a feast like this!

And at the appointed time, the doorbell rang. "We have been sent to welcome you into our home!" said Haman. And Pastor Ed and his wife The SCS Teacher and Larry and Loretta all came galloping in. They had a wonderful evening too.

Now, mommy could have done all the work herself without the hands and feet of Polly and Haman and Daddy and Gramma. But she welcomed them into the work of this great feast.

Now, interestingly enough, Jesus could certainly do His work without us. However, in today's Bible lesson Jesus sent his disciples out into the world to be HIS hands and feet, to tell everyone about God's Love and that they are invited to be a part of God's Great Feast! And WE are also sent to be the Hands and Feet of God.
